

The image is a detailed architectural site plan. It features various building footprints, some with internal room divisions, and a network of streets and paths. A prominent feature is a large, irregularly shaped area in the center-left, shaded in a light purple color. This area is bounded by a solid red line. A dashed red line extends from the top-right corner of this shaded area, defining a larger, more irregular boundary. Two red arrows point from text blocks to these boundaries. The text is written in red, sans-serif font. The overall drawing is in black and purple lines on a white background.
